ARREST SUSPECT ON LEHI STORE ROBBERY

Bunch of Questionable Characters Is Rounded Up by Provo Officers.

Special to The Tribune PROVO, May 20 .- Walter Wilson, Tom O'Neil and J. B. Clarkson—the last named is known in the hobo world as "Pittsburg Red"-were arrested today and lodged in the county jall by Deputy Sheriff Hales. Clarkson is supposed to be one of the men implicated in the burglary of Broadbent & Son's store at Lehi Saturday night. The other two men were taken in as suspects. The men claim that they were in Park City Saturday night and did not leave there until Sunday afternoon. Tom O'Neil has a recommendation purporting to have been given to him by the Silver King Mining company, but it lacks the officer's name who has power to issue such documents. The authorities believe the paper to be fraudulent.

Marriage licenses have been issued to William Huff and Emma Noakes of Thistle, William Arnold of Chicago and Yerda B. F. Oberg of Provo. the county fall by Deputy Sheriff Hales

ATTITUDE OF JUDGE IS SUBJECT OF COMMENT

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, May 20.—The manner in which justice was dealt out in the police court by Judge Murphy in two similar cases Wednesday morning has caused some comment by those present at the usual morning matinee. Appearing before His Honor were four negroes, who when arrested had in their possession valuable brass which they said they had picked up at Lakeside. They were charged with vagrancy. Although the mere possession of railroad brass has in times past been sufficiency of evidence of larceny when other defendants were on trial, Judge Murphy allowed the dusky quartette to leave town on "floaters."

Shortly after this disposition had been made of the above cases, the case of Patrick Duffey was called. Duffey was found begging food several days ago. At the house where he sought something to eat, he offered to work to pay for it. With a companion he tried to pawn several articles of personal property before resorting to begging. #### HOPE FOR SETTLEMENT OF CLEVELAND STRIKE

CLEVELAND, May 20.—Barring a possible squabble over the details of the settlement, the indications at midnight tonight were that a peaceful end of the strike of the metormen and conductors against the Municipal Street Railway company will come tomorrow. The conferees at that hour still were the executive session, but according to reports emanating from the room the chances seemed to indicate that an amicable agreement to arbitrate the matters in dispute would be reached before adjournment.

Incipient cases of attacks on cars were reported late in the night, the most serious of which was the dynamiting of a Loraine avenue car at West Sixty-fifth street. The trucks were demolished and thirty passengers were panie-stricken. None, however, were injured.

In other sections of the city a few cars suffered from stone throwers, but altogether the night passed without reasons.

PREMIER SHOWS FAVOR TOWARD WOMAN'S RIGHTS

LONDON May 20.—Prime Minister Asquith took a long step today in the direction of encouraging the claims of women for enfranchisement when he replied to an important delegation of Radical members in the House of Commons, who were deputed to obtain his views on this matter. He declared that the government intended before the close of the present parliament to pass a-comprehensive measure of electoral reform. He said he was not himself an advocate of woman suffrage, not having yet been convinced of its desirability, but he had an open mind on the subject, and if an amendment was introduced to the projected reform bill favoring women suffrage, on democratic lines the government would not oppose it.

He did however, indorse a $1000 note for Miller, he said. This new has almost been entirely paid, he said. The Senator said he married Mrs. Lillian Janeway in October, 1995. He was not permitted to answer when asked if there had been a pravious secret marriage. At the conclusion of the cross-examination he was asked if he recalled receiving a letter from Howe and Hummel in reference to a case which they contemplated bringing against him. Replying to question by Mr. Stanchfield, Platt said that when he said previously that he paid no money for the latters, he meant that he paid none to J. Martin Miller.

In support of Senator Platt's contention that his signature to a statement acknowledging Miss Wood as his legal wife was obtained by deception, counsel for Senator Platt today submitted to the court an affidavit by a Mrs. Dunning, in which she said that she secured Senator Flatt's autograph by sending a book to his rooms in the Arlington hotel with a request for his signature. Porter quoted Miss Wood as saying that she was at work for Leale's publication in New York in 1991, and was sent to interview Senator Platt, who gave her an interview and invited her to call when she wanted another. Later when she wanted an appointment as a teacher in the Philippines she went to see Senator Platt again with a woman friend, who also wanted an appointment. Afterward this woman, Miss Wood was quoted as saying, made herself so disagreeable that Senator Platt thought "we would have to clope to escape her. But my sense of humor would not permit me to clope with a 76-year-old groom whom I would have to support as he walked." Miss Wood added, "I could not afford to antagonize such powerful interests as Senator Platt, and was obliged to put up with him to a certain extent. I'd like to have any one who thinks him a matrimonial prize to have been in my shoes for about one day."

Mr. Porter also testified that on April 2, 1905, Miss Wood stated to him:
"I was afraid the Senator might beat me out by agreeing to fulfill his promise and marry me; and if there is one thing that would be more humiliating than suing this old man for a breach of promise it would be to be obliged to marry and live with him."

Dr. Roberts immediately set to work outlining the vital work of the general assembly which convenes here tomorrow. Dr. Roberts is the stated clerk of the general assembly and brought with him the official programme of the important questions to be taken up by the conference. The real importance of these questions will develop as they come up in the business sessions of the conference. It is already known, however, that the report of the committee on fraternity and union will show a strong sentiment favorable to the amaignmation of the differorable to the amalgamation of the different branches of the Presbyterian church. The spirit of the conference, it is said, will favor not only an effort to bring closer together all Presbyterian churches, but to strive to harmonize all organized religious.

Authorized delegates from all parts of the United States arrived here today and when the conference meets, every State and Territory will be represented. The conference will attract thousands of Presbyterians who are not authorized commissioners.

TO DEATH IN BALLOON

RIO JANEIRO, May 20.—A fatal balloon ascension was made here today by Lieutenant Fonscea of the Brazilian army. The lieutenant came out from France recently with a military balloon and this morning he completed his preparations for his first ascension before the military school. The Minister of War and a large gathering of officers had assembled to witness the experiments. Fonseca entered the car and was completing his final preparations when a strong gust of wind obliged the men who were holding the guy ropes to let go. The balloon shot up into the air, breaking the last ropes that held it to the ground. It rose to an altitude of 3000 feet, when suddenly it collapsed and fell down to earth with unchecked rapidity. The lieutenant was crushed to death. It is supposed that the accident was caused by a false maneuver on his part.

FOOD FOOLISHNESS

The druggist lives on your "food follies." If every one ate the druggist would have to turn grocer. There's no stomach so weak that it cannot digest FORCE. Its thin, crisp flakes are quickly penetrated by the digestive fluids and the barley-malt enables the intestines to digest the starch. FORCE helps Nature. Not a medicine, but a food.

"FORCE" is made of the best white wheat, steam-cooked, rolled into thin flakes, combined with the purest barley-malt and baked. Always "crisp" it before serving it by pouring into a pan and warming it in oven. Then serve in large dish with cream, piling the flakes in one side of the dish and pouring the cream in the other side, dipping the flakes as eaten.

Your Grocer sells it. No other Flaked Food is "Just as Good."
